

Our neighborhood school is having a Brick sale, but never has one brick said or done as much. The bricks will be used to pave a path to the playground at Martin Park Elementary and can be engraved with your name or message. The cost is $25 for two lines of up to 18 characters per line, or $150 for gold filled characters. All proceeds go to Martin Park Elementary for educational materials and supplies; your contribution is a tax deductible contribution to the Boulder Valley School District. Please call Beth Wilcox (440-3849) to place your order or to find out more about this terrific commemorative fund-raiser for our neighborhood school.

Remember the last time you saw newspapers blowing in the wind and said to yourself, "what this town needs is more gravity"? We'll have to make do with the next best thing, which is heavier stuff on top of the newspaper. Toward that end, the Girl Scouts, Eco-Cycle and the city will gather at Martin Park Elementary on Saturday morning, July 20, to paint rocks (chock full of gravity) and distribute them to the neighborhood (chock full of newspapers). And in addition, the overall mass of the participants will be increased by bringing picnic lunches and by a donation of Josh and John's ice cream. Heavy, man! For info, please call Brian Ladd at 444-6640.

Here is the list of Thank Yous, Kudos, Couldn't have done it without yous, and I show my appreciation in your general directions:

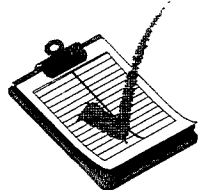

Thank you to everyone who donated plants and helped plant the planter by the tennis courts in Martin Park. A special thanks to Dianne Marshall for volunteering her Master Gardener expertise to the project. Thanks to the Priem family, neighborhood kids, Jesse Basnett and everyone else that helped clean up broken limbs and trash out of Bear Creek. Finally, thanks to everyone involved in the changes at Martin Park Elementary. This fall, Rock Creek students will be opening the doors of their new school and the High Peaks elementary school will be sharing the Martin Park building with our neighborhood children and Martin Park teachers. Many of your neighbors have worked long hours trying to make the transition work out for everybody, but most especially for our children.

MANA and MPAT (Martin Park Advisory Team) will be conducting a neighborhood survey to assess the approximate future student population at Martin Park Elementary. This information affects decisions made by the school district. Have your #2 pencils ready.

MPAT, formerly the Martin Park Elementary PTO, will meet Monday, Aug. 12 at 6:30. No excuses, baby-sitting will be available.

Our annual MANA Pancake Breakfast will be held on Saturday, September 14, 1996, from 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. at the Martin Park Shelter House. This is our main fund raiser for the neighborhood association, and is a great opportunity to meet old and new friends!

Volunteers are needed for the following jobs:

Checking out each others living spaces might have been nosy, but it raised $881 for Martin Park Elementary when 200 people attended the Martin Park Home Tour. Thanks to all the generous people who opened their homes and to all the acquisitive folks who prowled the neighborhood for a good cause.

That pesky traffic mitigation plan is actually going to come to a head, at least for Martin Dr. in front of the school. The city is going to schedule a meeting to decide on a plan and then will most likely implement it by the end of the summer. Attending will be MANA reps, city reps, and fire department reps. Check with Chris Holloway for more info.

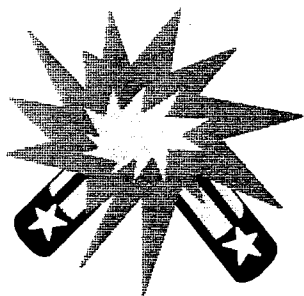

It's summer and the windows are open and the weeds need tending. If you are having a problem with nose sneezing, man eating weeds or with too much noise near your house (except for airplane noise, for that you'll have to talk with Federico) then have we got a contact person for you. Just call Zach Miller at 494-5416.
